We had nice weather conditions for the November 11, 2023 Across the Course match. A little cool in the morning and then perfect temps the rest of the day. The wind was a but puffy and was enough to cause some problems.

The story of the day is Chris Birchard with a 773-19X. Chris has been improving his scores consistently this season, and this latest score is only 3 points away from a High Master score, and this was not a "giveaway" day. Congratulations Chris on a fine score and first place in the Master class. Chris Liu bested the combined Unclassified, Marksman, Expert class with 730-9x. It is very notable that Chris did this with iron sights! Great job Chris.

Thanks to all who pitched in for the range set-up and takedown. Also, thanks to Blake Aaron for his help in calling the line.

Jeff Lovat will be the match director for Decembers match. Thanks Jeff for standing in for me.
